

Plants and Sunlight: Part 1

Plants need sunlight energy to produce their own food and grow well. When a plant doesn't get enough sunlight, it grows thin and weak, and its leaves may turn yellow and fall off.

In each pair check off the plant that gets not enough sunlight.

