There once was a girl named Rapunzel / Cenerentola. She was very sad because she wanted to go to the ball with her stepsisters. But she did not have a beautiful vestito / zucca to wear.

“Don’t worry,” said the fairy godmother.

“I will get you ready for the ball.” The fairy godmother waved her magic wand. Cinderentola’s old clothes and shoes changed into a beautiful dress and two glass slippers! The fairy godmother waved her magic wand again. Poof! She turned a small, orange zucca / principe into a silver carriage. Cinderentola went to the ball and won the heart of the principe / vestito. They lived happily ever after.
