

Point of View: The Crow and the Pitcher

A narrator tells a story but isn't a part of it.
This would be the third-person point of view.

Trace the line to the point of view in each sentence.

The crow couldn't fit his beak into the pitcher!

I am so thirsty.

How can I get the water?

The crow had an idea.

He picked up pebbles.

My beak is long, so I will pick up pebbles.

I think the stones will make the water rise.

He rested and looked around.
